They rely solely on private funding by the public. Volunteers of the foundation's team are trained by local hospital to ensure that they are skilled in providing such services.

MISSION REPORT

3. REASON FOR MISSION: The foundation operates solely on funding by the public. There is no financial assistance from the authorities.

4. MISSION SUMMARY: (what was done, the response, observations etc.)

SWAN missionaries visited the foundation to make donation for coffins to be provided to those that the foundation's services responded to and have passed away and whose families are unable to provide a decent burial proceeding for them.

MISSION REPORT

Having explained our intention to report on this donation to our fund members, the person-in-charge was very generous to allow the request of our missionaries to have a view of the coffins that are reserved for such purposes.

5. LESSONS LEARNT: (IF ANY): For future improvements

- Nil

6. THOUGHTS OF THE DAY:

- Such donations benefit both the living and the dead. Helping the living relieve the burden of providing proper burial to their loved ones who have passed away, while at the same time, providing due respect for the deceased for their last journey in this world.
- The subject of death reminds all of us to cherish our loved ones with all our hearts when time is still available. Love and be loved, letting each other know and making the best of every moment when our loved ones are still with us. Not forgetting loving of all fellow beings, doing our best to help all needy, when we still have time in this world.
